About Shepherd Home

Shepherd Home is a comfort care home that provides compassionate end of life care in a way that cherishes the dignity of each individual and meets his or her physical, emotional and spiritual needs. Shepherd Home has cared for more than 302 residents since its doors opened in November 2005.

This 2-bedroom home is located on Five Mile Line Road, just north of the four corners, in a beautiful wooded setting with all the comforts of home and specially trained staff nurses and volunteers. Caregivers at the home provide support to the resident's family and friends, and foster community acceptance that dying is an integral part of living.

Having started in 1997 as a group of community members exploring the possibility of creating a comfort care home in Penfield, Shepherd Home is a labor of love and dedication. The road from idea, to vision, to planning, to grand opening, and finally to a continuing ministry for the terminally ill and their loved ones hasn't always been a straight line, but it has been an inspiring journey.

Shepherd Home does not accept payment for the services it provides, nor does it receive insurance reimbursement. Shepherd Home depends on donations, memorial gifts, and fundraising events like this one to maintain its ministry to the dying and their families. Join us in supporting this very special place right here in the Penfield community.
